FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Advisory: Upcoming B.C. Human Rights Code public educational session on housing, employment and services

Vancouver B.C. – On Jun. 6, 2023, BC's Office of the Human Rights Commissioner will hold a free, virtual session to help people understand B.C.'s Human Rights Code and how it protects against discrimination in housing, employment and services.

Whether tuning in as a landlord, tenant, employer, employee, service provider or service user, this 90-minute interactive session will help participants learn about their rights and responsibilities related to these key areas.

By the end of this session, learners will be able to:

- Situate B.C.'s Human Rights Code within other human rights laws
- recognize terms used in the B.C. human rights system
- identify discrimination under B.C.'s Human Rights Code
- recognize what protected personal characteristics can be used to make human rights complaints

WHO: BC's Office of the Human Rights Commissioner (BCOHRC)

WHAT: B.C. Human Rights Code educational session

WHEN: Tuesday, Jun. 6, 2023, from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m. PST

About BCOHRC

BC's Office of the Human Rights Commissioner exists to address the root causes of inequality, discrimination and injustice in B.C. by shifting laws, policies, practices and cultures. We do this work through education, research, advocacy, inquiry and monitoring. Learn more at: bchumanrights.ca

About the Commissioner

B.C.'s Human Rights Commissioner, Kasari Govender, started her five-year term on Sept. 3, 2019. Since then, our Office has been working swiftly to build a strong team, to listen deeply to the concerns of British Columbians, to deliver education materials on our rights and responsibilities, to issue policy guidance to protect marginalized communities and to lay a human rights-based foundation for our work. As an independent officer of the Legislature, the Commissioner is uniquely positioned to ensure human rights in B.C. are protected, respected and advanced on a systemic level throughout our society.
